

Abhishek Chauhan

Software Engineer @MagpieXYZ

“

”

I'm a passionate Software Engineer with a Master's in Computer Application from JS University and two years of experience. I've worked with two Indian startups and one US-based blockchain startup, building robust back-end systems and seamless front-end user experiences. I'm also ranked in the top 1% of competitive programmers globally.

What drives me most is mentoring the next generation of developers. I believe in the power of knowledge-sharing and take pride in helping others reach their full potential. Whether through coding workshops, one-on-one mentoring, or contributing to online communities, I'm committed to fostering growth and excellence in the tech industry.